

Your Involvement on Committees Is Vital to TBA Success

The heart and soul of the Tennessee Bankers Association is the volunteer banker serving on a committee. Through their involvement, these volunteers represent the entire banking community and assure that your association meets your needs. Without the expertise and enthusiasm of committee members, your TBA could not function.

Each year, more than 300 bankers serve on various TBA committees, which meet during the year to focus on the issues facing our industry and determine how to address these issues through TBA educational programs and the services the association offers.

Because banking is ever-changing, and the TBA strives to adapt to these changes, future committee needs may not include those committees listed here. Although committee names may change, the need for committee members will always be there.

If you have specialized banking expertise, enthusiasm, and creative ideas, we would like to hear from you. If you have ever sat through a seminar or conference and wished the speakers would address your concerns, now is the time to make your wishes known.

Please take the time to complete this form and return it to the TBA. While we can't guarantee that every one who submits a form will be selected to serve on a committee in the immediate future, TBA staff will review the forms and make every effort to match up your expertise with TBA committee needs.
